If Haskell really intends to sue Hearst for libel he must believe in his own innocence.

Hon. John G. Carlisle denounces as a forgery and a fake the Cleveland letter sold by Brandenburg to the New York Times.

The best thing that Foraker can do is to keep quiet so that the public will forget that there ever was a Senator by that name.

"Whiskey sandwich" is the latest way the morally stunted are trying to get around the prohibition law in Alabama.

Did you hear that the next Governor of North Carolina last night? If you didn't you mised a treat if you like to hear genuine eloquence.

Roosevelt may think he has got the best of the contest; but Bryan knows he has the people on his side and it is the people who do the voting.

Ex-Senator Latimer has taken the boldest, and perhaps the safest course of any of the men whom Hearst has slapped with that filth-gormed paddle.

The Bryan and Roosevelt letters come thick and fast these days. If this progression keep up the public will be treated to several a day before the campaign is over.

Both parties are after the trusts and the trusts seem to be anxious to know which one is the most in earnest. Experience teaches them that the Republican is not much so.

Is it a fact that ninety-six thousand dollars a year is now being spent on the North Carolina State Guard? If that be so on what is the money spent?

While the reading public is growing tired of the newspaper controversy between Bryan and Roosevelt, it is waiting the certainty that Roosevelt will in the end hang himself with the rope Bryan is dealing out to him.

Before the Bryan-Roosevelt contest is over the public will begin to think it in order for Roosevelt to send in his resignation—either as champion of the Republican campaign forces or as President of the Nation.

We will bet our bottom dollar that a good many Democrats who were indifferent about the election before are now determine to go to the polls and vote the full ticket after hearing Kitchin's speech last night.

The nomination by the Democrats of Davidson county of W. P. M. Turner for the Legislature was a case in which the office sought the man—a refreshing exception to the general rule in the usual scramble for office in these latter days. We are sorry that Mr. Turner saw fit to decline the nomination.

Cincinnati, Sept. 30.—A ninth-inning rally in which four hits and a base on balls figured, won today's game for Cincinnati. Lobart drove in two runs that decided the game, after two men were out and the bases full. Dubec's wildness gave Chicago the lead early in the game. The Score:

(Special Star Telegram.)

Dunn, N. C., Sept. 30.—Hon. H. L. Godwin, arived here today on the noon train from Southport and received the letter from Col. A. H. Slocomb addressed to him yesterday requesting a joint canvass of the Sixth Congressional District. He immediately prepared and mailed the following letter:

"Dunn, N. C., Sept 30th., 1908.
"Mr. A. H. Slocomb, Fayetteville, N. C.

My Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 29th inst., stating that you have accepted the nomination as candidate for Congress of the National Republican party and that you would be glad to have a joint discussion with me on the political issues of the day at such times and places as may suit our mutual convenience.

"In reply I desire to assure you that it is entirely agreeable with me to have a joint discussion with you on the political issues involved in the present campaign as I believe the voters of the Sixth District should have an opportunity to hear the political issues honestly and fully discussed. I therefore, take pleasure in accepting your invitation to a joint canvass of the district. I will go to Fayetteville any afternoon this week that you will designate arriving there on the afternoon train from Dunn to arrange the necessary preliminaries for the campaign. "Very truly Yours,

"Mr. Godwin stated here this afternoon that he had an interview with Hon. G. H. Bellamy, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, Sixth Congressional District, on last Monday at Southport and that it was agreed that Mr. Bellamy should immediately issue a challenge to the chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of the Sixth Congressional District for a discussion of the political issues of the campaign between Mr. Godwin and Mr. Slocomb. Mr. Bellamy announced at the conclusion of Mr. Godwin's speech in the Court House at Southport Monday night that he would request a joint discussion between the two Congressional candidates.

The preliminaries for the candidates will be made at an early date and the joint campaign will likely begin about the 8th or 10th of October. The people will likely look forward to this discussion with much interest.

VESSELS FEAR BAD WEATHER

Nine Schooners Anchored Off Cape Fear Bar—Among Large Fleet.

On account of threatening weather and prevailing northeast winds nine sailing vessels, among which are the schooners Massachusetts and Judge Pennewill, bound from Charleston to New York, are anchored off the Cape Fear bar for harbor. The vessels anchored off the bar are among the large fleet of "wind-jammers" that cleared from southern ports on September 28th. The number of vessels that cleared on that date is said to be the largest to leave in one day within the past two years. They are from the following ports: Charleston and Georgetown, S. C.; Darien and Savannah, Ga.; Fernandina and Jacksonville, Fla.

Storm warnings posted on the Florida peninsula yesterday forecast threat ening weather for the next two or three days.

Habeas Corpus for Child.

Judge C. C. Lyon, in the Superior Court here yesterday, heard a habeas corpus proceeding from Onslow county involving the custody of a bright-faced little girl, Beulah Allen, 10 years of age, whose father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allen, have separated and the grandfather, Mr. W. C. Allen, of Onslow, sought the care and keeping of the little girl. The child was produced in court by Sheriff W. C. Mills, of Onslow, and after hearing the complaint of the petitioner, Judge Lyon gave the custody to the grandfather with instructions that the mother be allowed to see her occasionally. Mesrs. Woodus Kellum and E. M. Koonce appeared as attorneys for the petitioner and judgment in the case will be drawn and signed today.

Quiet Marriage Last Night.

Wilmington friends will learn with interest of the marriage of Miss Amoret B. Canady, of this city, and Mr. Neill McArthur Davis, of Fayetteville, which was solemnized last night in the presence of a few intimate friends, by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D. pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The couple will leave this morning on a bridal tour to Florida, to return to Fayetteville in about ten days, where they will make their future home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Canady, who reside on Greenville Sound, and is a young lady with many friends in this city and Fayetteville, where she has been residing for the past few months. The groom is a popular business man in the latter town.

WELCOME TO KITCHIN

Democratic Nominee For Governor Enthusiastically Received by Local Democracy.

SPOKE IN THE COURT HOUSE

Hundreds Were Turned Away Despite Threatening Weather Which Forbade Outdoor Rally—Great Speech of Standard Bearer.

There was certainly no suggestion of apathy or disaffection in the ranks of the party in New Hanover in the magnificent welcome extended last night in the Court House to Hon. William Walton Kitchin, Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, upon the occasion of his address here to the electorate of this county. Factional differences, if any there existed, were forgotten and enthusiasm ran high during the little more than two hours that the gifted young North Carolinian poured hot shot into the ranks of the enemy in a merciless comparison of Democratic policies and standards with those of the Republicans in both State and Nation.

An outdoor meeting had been planned and a stand, gaily decorated with flags and bunting, had been placed at Third and Market streets, but the weather was threatening and the rally was adjourned to the Court House, which was totally inadequate to hold the crowds that came to hear the "next Governor." It is safe to assume despite the inclemency of the weather, that quite as many were turned away from the large auditorium of the Court House as were able to get inside. Lively music was discoursed by the Delgado Band and the meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by President Cameron F. MacRae, of the Bryan and Kitchin Club. The distinguished speaker was introduced in an eloquent and most pleasing little address by his personal friend and ardent supporter, Herbert McClammy, Esq., of the local bar, who presented him as "The People's Governor of North Carolina."

A perfect sea of faces met the gaze of Mr. Kitchin as he arose to speak, every foot of floor space in the court room being occupied while others were clamoring for position in the doors and windows. Not a few ladies graced the assemblage with their presence, occupying seats within the bar railing. Mr. Kitchin very gracefully acknowledged the compliment paid by Mr. McClammy in his introduction and the pleasure it gave him of meeting the people of this "Queen City by The Sea." He was glad to come not only personally but as bearing the standard of the great Democratic party. He impressed upon the people of the State the importance of studying public questions, understanding them and voting their convictions, at the same time warning the people that some of the greatest crimes had been committed in the name of conscience. This was by way of introducing a strong arraignment of the Republicans for being led blindly by leaders, regardless of their convictions, referring to his own nomination in Charlotte and that of J. Elwood Cox by the Republicans later, and the "appointment" of Taft as the National Republican candidate by Roosevelt. The party was subservient and men did not own their own souls. Federal patronage had been used by Roosevelt, he charged, to divert support to his man, "T. R. Taft."

Mr. Kitchin also took up the standing of the two parties on the negro question, calling attention to the platform in Mr. Taft's State of Ohio which declared either for the restoration of the ignorant negro to suffrage at the ballot box or a reduction of Southern representation in Congress. It was a veiled attack upon the constitutional amendment in North Carolina and how the National Republicans and State Democrats could reconcile their positions he did not know. It was in the nation a question of whether the people should rule or the country should be laid as a sacrifice at the altar of the Republican system.

He spoke of disaffection in the ranks of both Democrats and Republicans over certain local conditions and told why it would avail nothing for the Democrats to leave the fold. The madder a Republican got, the closer he stuck to his party. This party loyalty should commend itself to the Democratic party.

Mr. Kitchin also discussed ably the question of railway regulation and declared himself an enemy of neither individual nor corporation rights. The doctrine of eminent domain and individual ownership was explained and Mr. Kitchin said that the man or corporation who did not have a hand in the people's pocket had nothing to fear. He treated the trust question in an uncompromising way and his explanation of the tariff as a breeder of monopoly was clear and vigorous.

Democratic panic and Republican prosperity, the slogan of the Republicans, was turned to good account in

MR. NEIL M'INTOSH DEAD

Well Known Wilmington Citizen Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning—Remains Taken to Moore County For Interment.

Following an acute illness of only a few days Mr. Neil McIntosh, for many years proprietor of the Fulton House, and one of the best known residents of the city passed away yesterday morning at 4 o'clock at his home. He had been in feeble health for several months, but had only been confined to his home since last Saturday.

Mr. McIntosh came to Wilmington many years ago from Moore county, and at the time of his death was 67 years of age. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Dunlap, of Moore county, and his second wife, Miss Green, of Bladen county. Besides his wife there are surviving two children of the first union, Mr. D. M. McIntosh and Miss McIntosh, of this city, and as a result of the second marriage, Mrs. Stella Brice, of Hamlet, and Miss Lucy McIntosh, of this city. All have the tenderest sympathy of many friends in the sad bereavement that has come to them.

Mr. McIntosh was a brave Confederate soldier and served faithfully with the 46th North Carolina Regiment, his loyalty to the South even in after years having been one of his marked characteristics. He was devoted to his family and to his home and all who came to know him well were his best friends. His death is generally deplored in Wilmington where he was well known and highly esteemed by all classes.

The remains were taken yesterday morning to Carthage, N. C., the old home, for funeral and interment today. The remains were accompanied by members of the sorrowing family and friends.

MARRIED YESTERDAY EVENING.

Mr. George E. Megow Claims as His Bride Miss Margaret Newkirk.

A quiet but withal a very pretty and impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized at a quarter past six o'clock yesterday evening at the handsome new manse of Saint Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on North Fourth street, when Mr. George E. Megow, a clever and popular young man of this city, led to the altar Miss Margaret Newkirk, an attractive young woman of this city, a daughter of Mr. W. U. Newkirk, of Sampson county, and they were made man and wife in a beautiful service spoken by the Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D.

Conforming to the wishes of both the bride and groom only a few very intimate friends and relatives were present, these being Mrs. Frank Gilbert, a sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mattingly, friends of the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in a brown traveling suit and immediately after the ceremony they received the congratulations of those assembled and left on the 7 o'clock northbound Atlantic Coast Line train for a bridal tour of three weeks which they will spend at Washington, Chicago, Milwaukee and on a visit to the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Megow, of Princeton, Wisconsin. Returning, Mr. and Mrs. Megow will make their home in this city where both are deservedly popular, Mrs Megow having spent much of her life in Wilmington and Mr. Megow having removed here from Galesburg, Ill., a little more than a year ago, since that time having been engaged with The Morning Star in its linotype department.

A number of very pretty and handsome wedding gifts were received by the bride and groom, among the evidences of high esteem in which they are held having been one from Mr. Megow's fellow employes in all departments of the Star office. They will be cordially welcomed upon their return to the city.

ON CAPITAL FELONY

CRIMINAL ASSAULT CHARGE

Jury Not Selected Until After Noon Recess—Only One Other Unimportant Matter Disposed of Yesterday—The Docket.

Practically all of yesterday's session of the New Hanover Superior Court was taken up with the selection of a jury and the beginning of the trial of Paul James, a negro from Greenville Sound, charged with a criminal assault upon a member of his own race, Sophie Austin, who lives near the home of the defendant on the Sound.

All the morning session was taken up with the selection of 11 members of the jury to pass upon the issue of life and death as joined between the State and the defendant, the twelfth juror not having been selected until the afternoon session. When court took a recess shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the defense which is being conducted by Messrs. Brooke G. Empie and Pait & Woody, had introduced only a part of its testimony and will conclude upon the convening of court this morning. All of the special venire of fifty summoned for trial had been called up to noon yesterday and other members of the jury had to be selected from bystanders and talesman picked up by deputies on the streets.

The panel as finally agreed upon is composed of Messrs. J. B. Linder, R. S. Wells, Cuthbert Martin, J. B. Taylor, J. F. Mann, T. N. Thomas, J. L. Hazelhurst, F. W. Mohr, F. W. Westermann J. T. Smith, E. Norfleet and George Bishop. These are being kept together under the usual instructions of the court until the case is concluded.

The evidence as adduced yesterday at the trial was not such as would attach much importance to the case and there is very little interest in the result. The Solicitor is being assisted in the prosecution by County Attorney Marsden Bellamy and his law partner, E. M. Koonce, Esq., of Onslow, who happened to be in the city yesterday on other business. The evidence in the case is being taken in shorthand by Mr. Meares Harriss, expert stenographer, and his services are greatly facilitating the trial.

The only other case disposed of in the court yesterday was a case of larceny against Eddie Flowers, colored, who was represented by L. Clayton Grant, Esq. He was found not guilty and discharged.

Today the case of Chas. Radcliffe, colored, charged with killing another negro is set for trial, but it can hardly be reached before this afternoon or tomorrow.

MAY GET HIM HERE.

Hon. John Sharp Williams Might be Induced to Come to Wilmington

A long distance telephone message yesterday evening from Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, at whose instance the Newbern appointment was secured, states that if the people here desire to hear him, there is a strong possibility of getting Hon. John Sharp Williams to speak in Wilmington Monday afternoon of the coming week, on the political issues of the day. Mr. Williams will be in Newbern Saturday, speaking in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and it is stated that if the proper invitation is extended, Mr. Williams would probably come over to Wilmington on the noon train, speak that afternoon at 2 o'clock and leave the same even for Washington, D. C. The matter will be called to the attention of the county organization and it is understood that the invitation will probably be extended and that a committee may be named to go over to Newbern to accompany him here.

Congressman Thomas is making preparations for Mr. Williams' appearance in Newbern and great crowds are expected from all the surrounding counties. Should the Wilmington appointment be made hundreds of others from the surrounding counties would be enabled to hear him here. He is a strong, vigorous man, an able debater and his policies are such as will appeal to the people of this Colonial and liberty-loving people.

DEFORESTRATION.

In the article given below, taken from the Charlotte Chronicle, that paper calls attention to an object lesson in forest devastation and its consequent evils, and it demonstrates the importance of preservation of the forests for the protection of the farming lands of the State and the general welfare of future generations:

"One of the most remarkable instances of soil erosion in this country is to be seen on a mountain side, four miles east of Blowing Rock. It is in plain view from half a dozen turns in the road and makes a fine subject for the photagrapher. The mountain was cleared of timber years ago and was perhaps at one time cultivated, but was long since abandoned to its fate. Down its sides runs a series of deep, irregular gullies, which are becoming wider and deeper each year. At the foot of the mountain is a cabin and the impression one gets of the sight is that the cabin and its occupants are in daily danger of being buried under a landslide. One cannot repress a desire to see the forestry doctor get to work on the noble old hill and save it from eventual destruction. A systematic planting of spruce pines in and about the ugly seams would soon restore the mountain to its original beauty."

No doubt similar conditions can be found in other parts of the mountain section of our State. This devastation of forests is going on all over this whole section of the country.

It has been fully demonstrated that the owners of the forest lands will not heed the warnings given them of the great wrong to future generations they are doing by the complete destruction of the forests. Therefore it is time that the governments of the States and of the Nation, each within its sphere, should step in and protect the people of this and coming generations against the wanton and greedy action of these destroyers of our forests. Great calamity cannot be avoided except by checking the deforesting of the country, which is now going on and the establishment of a system of renewing forests in those areas where they have been destroyed. It is marvelous that people do not understand the great, the irreparable injury that is being done, or that, realizing it, are for the sake of present gain, so indifferent to the deplorable conditions their averice is sure to bring about.

THE TAR HEEL MOONSHINER.

The Washington Post pays this tribute editorially to the Tar Heel mountaineer and moonshiner:

"There was captured the other day in West Virginia a Miss Carlis, a mountain lass, an Amazon of the moonshine still, who defied and fought the "revenues," and who would willingly die for the liberty of turning grain into malt and malt into whiskey, at the option of the owner, without let or hinder from individual or society.

"The mountaineers of the Virginias, North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, and Kentucky are a peculiar people—the highlanders of the South, hardy brave, simple, and prejudiced. In all our land there can be found no greater percentage of church members than among these rude folk, who hold human life rather cheap.

"To the Federal arms East Tennessee supplied 45,000 soldiers, all white. Kentucky furnished 90,000, of whom 35,000 were mountaineers. West Virginia contributed a fair share and it is safe to say that the Southern mountain clans swelled the ranks of the Federal army in the big war at least 100,000 men, all white, born in the cabin, reared in the woods, taught in infancy how to shoot and endowed by nature with the gift of fight. The Chouan of Brittany and the Celt that Dundee led to victory were much like these mountaineers; but on them has been laid the glamor of poetry and romance that will some day come to our mountaineers.

"Of the moonshiners of the mountains at least 90 per cent. are Republicans. The Eleventh Kentucky congressional district consists of nineteen counties with a population of 258,316, each county Republican in political complexion, and the aggregate majority has reached as high as 22,000. These folk, primitive and simple, cannot, and will not, understand that the personal right to do with their grain what they choose can be denied by any government—that is, the moonshiners, and most of the customers of the moonshiners among them.

"They will fight for this "right," kill with savagery for it, and murder without qualm for it. Hospitable to a degree that shames all other Americans, they have the rifle for the "revenues," and will give their beds to any and all other guests, together with the last crumb on the table, and deem it insult if offered pay."

THE MUCKRAKER'S ENDLESS CHAIN.

It looks like Hearst, with the aid of the men who stole and sold to him Archbold's letter books, has established a muckrake endless chain. The President of the country, for political purposes, has come to his assistance and is now the close ally of the man, whom he renounced two years ago as a maker of false statements, in his efforts to defame and blacken the character of such a man as William J. Bryan. On facts stated by such a man the President bases his charge that the election of Bryan would be a calamity to the country from a moral standpoint. Others have been denounced on the same authority, whether rightly or wrongly, has not been proven. The question is: Where is this thing to end? Who next are to be denounced. Here is the way the New York Times puts it:

"Let us trace the application of the theory of 'you're another' in this campaign to its logical conclusion. First, Mr. Foraker is accused and he is dropped, with the remark from Mr. Roosevelt that he was no worse than Haskell. Then Mr. Haskell is dropped with the declaration by Mr. Kern (Mr. Kern, it is well to remark, is the candidate of the Bryan party for Vice President) that he is no worse than Mr. DuPont. Then Mr. DuPont is dropped. Thereupon Mr. Foraker, from the early end of the string, points out that he is no worse than Mr. Taft, which Mr. Taft denies, and various journals rudely call attention to the inference that in times past Mr. Roosevelt has been as suspect as any of them, if not more so.

"We suppose it is a little late for Mr. Taft to withdraw, and Mr. Roosevelt can hardly be expected to hasten his plans for a visit to Africa, while Mr. Bryan is constitutionally incapable of getting out, and Mr. Hearst announces that he has enough ammunition to continue rapid-fire publication until the meeting of the Presidential Electors. It's a fine outlook for the professional or congenial muckraker whom every prospect pleases if only man is vile, but sensible American citizens cannot like it."

THE WAR-CLOUD IN EUROPE.

It is said that Turkey's last declaration regarding her relations with Bulgarian amounts to an ultimatum which is equal to a declaration of war. If this be true and war between these two countries follows there is no telling where the matter will end. Just such a war as this might bring on a general conflict in Europe, one equal to the Crimean war when three of the powers united to check the growing power of another, or of the later war between Russia and Turkey, when the former's success aroused the fears of other powers who interfered and would have taken part had not the Muscorite taken the hint and called a halt on the march of his armies toward the "gates of the Dardanelles". To the disgrace of Europe the powers of that continent have maintained the integrity of the Ottoman empire as a means of offsetting the power of one against the other. For the same reason they will not allow Turkey to increase her prestige in Europe by extending her territory. But the danger to the peace of western Europe, once this war is begun, is what the terms of peace shall be. Every nation interested politically or territorially will want to take advantage of the situation to add to its power or prestige. There will be more danger of war among other nations arising from the settlement of the terms of peace between Turkey and Bulgaria than there will be in the actual war.

The public is hearing a great deal these days about indictments of corporations by the federal government for violating the anti-trust and the anti-rebate law; but it hears nothing about the offenders being punished. Once in awhile a fine is imposed on a corporation which, of course, is paid by the innocent stockholders; but never is any punishment meted out to the guilty parties.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—"As long as the Republican party in the Southern states shall represent little save a factional chase for Federal offices, in which business men and men of substance in the community have no desire to enter, and in the result of which they have no interest, we may expect the present political conditions of the South to continue. Republican Nominee Taft.

—When 17-year-old boys whip out revolvers during personal quarrels with their fellows, is it any wonder that so many men are habituated to the pistol-toting habit? When public sentiment against this evil becomes so pointed that boys will regard the act of going armed with a revolver as cowardly, instead of being manly, maybe conditions will improve.—Chattanooga Times.

—Mr. Bryan complains that Roosevelt is not passing out to him the square deal. Did he expect to get it from that quarter? Does he expect the complaint to avail him? He should be striking at the enemy on his record and not complaining now. Nor does it avail to name undesirable trusts—they are all undesirable citizens in Roosevelt's proclamations, but none of them was hit in Roosevelt's prosecutions.—Florida Times Union.

—One of the guaranteed deposits banks of Oklahoma broke. The State Comptroller paid the depositors out of the guaranteed fund. When the bank's affairs were closed out and settlements completed, the assets yielded enough to make good the guarantee money advanced. The depositors having been settled with and having plenty of time it was not necessary to force settlements and thus sacrifice assets. Now Secretary Straus comes along and says it was all a put up job to show how well the system works in practice. The Secretary's cry is a very far one. The plan worked.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—Mr. Roosevelt's velocity as a controversialist makes it difficult for the newspaper commentator to keep abreast of him without midnight precautions which the circumstances hardly seem to justify. Not even the intervention of the Sabbath could deter him from an immediate, acrid and long-winded rejoiner to Mr. Bryan. The debate is now fairly opened, and the end is not yet. Mr. Bryan will doubtless reply to Mr. Roosevelt's reply to his reply, and the argument may outlast the campaign. How will the people of the country like such a spectacle? A candidate has a natural right to defend himself against the assaults of a President, but what is to be said of a President who hurls himself into a vituperative propaganda against the leader of the rival party.—Times Dispatch.

—A campaign of personal recrimination in which the President of the United States is one of the chief participants can hardly be called an edifying spectacle. Questions affecting the business or public career of Governor Haskell of Oklahoma are not precisely of national importance, and their discussion tends to obscure questions which may be rightly considered so. Not the least of the unfortunate effects of the turn which has been given to campaign controversy by President Roosevelt is that it tends to dwarf the personality of the candidate nominated by the National Republican Convention and to reduce to comparative insignificance the principles for which he stands sponser. It does not greatly mend the matter that these principles should have an intimate relation to the policies with which the present Administration has identified itself.—Journal of Commerce.

—Trying to make something out of nothing, if persisted in, will surely lead the experimenter to suicide or prison. In this age of speculation almost every man who has a dollar or a few hundreds or a few thousands of dollars thinks he can double his money at one stroke, and so he risks it on some sort of gambling, and invariably loses it. Possibly, in order to lead the victim on, he may be allowed to make an occasional winning, but most of these victims are so insanely determined to make something out of nothing that they do not need to be baited. They lose their own money, and then they rob their employers, their families, anybody, in order to get more money to throw after what has gone before. The result is that they kill themselves because they cannot face the disgrace, or they are recorded on the rolls of criminals. Every gambling game is put up for its conductors to win and the suckers to lose. Disgrace and death by one's own hand are all that the victim ever gets. Let every man, young and old, understand this, and quit gambling if he can. Otherwise his doom is sealed.—New Orleans Picayune.

TWINKLINGS.

—"Jackson tells me the last thing he wrote was accepted. Do you know what it was?" "Yes; his resignation!"

—Friend—Are you going to be a bank president when you grow up? Johny—Nope; I'll be a receiver.—New York Sun.

—"The office should seek the man, you know." "That's all right," replied the avowed aspirant, "but I gave it a fair chance, and it seemed diffident."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

—"What!" cried the stage manager, "You laugh while you are supposed to be dying?" "Certainly," replied the actor. "At the wages you pay, why shouldn't death be greeted with joy?"

"Your wife used to sing and play a great deal. I have not heard her lately." "Since we have had children she has no time." "Ah, children are such a blessing."

—"Did you ever speculate?" "Oh, yes; once I built a handsome house on tips I got from a friend of mine." "What became of it?" The waiter at the restaurant I always lunch at bought it on tips he got from me.

—"And do you mean to say you prefer Chollie? You told me that you always feel so perfectly at home with Algie." "So I do, but with Chollie I feel as if I were at a restaurant."—Harper's Bazar.

—"Haven't I told you," asked the father, "always to tell the truth?" "Yes, you told me that," the young man admitted; "but at another time you told me never to become a slave of habit."

—Pa Smith threw down his newspaper in disgust. "It's shameful," he exclaimed, "the way these colleges waste money on furniture! Here's an account of somebody giving Oxford 40,000 pounds for a new chair."

—Madame (to the nursemaid, who has just brought home her four children from a walk)—Dear me, Anna, how changed the children look since I last saw them. Are you quite sure they are the right ones?—Fliegende Blatter.

—Harvey—You should have seen Hotayre swell up at that mind-reading seance the other night, when the blindfolded lady actually told him the number of his automobile. Beattice—But he has no auto. Harvey—Of course not. But he looked astounded and acknowledged that she was right.—Puck.

—"Well," said the devil, "I will let you off if you can think up three tasks which I can't accomplish." "All right," we observed, "bring us the Great American Novel, an interesting vaudeville show and a fountain pen that won't leak." The old boy shrieked terribly, but there was nothing for him to do but to acknowledge gracefully that he was beaten.—Puck.

—News and Observer: Justice of the Peace A. H. Yearby has recognized eight nameless boys for their appearance at Superior Court, charged with an assault with deadly weapons. When asked yesterday for the names of the young men he declined to give them, stating that an effort was being made to settle the matter without making the names public. Seven other young men whom he examined were discharged; one was fined $2.50 and taxed with the cost for simple assault, this boy having struck the negro Robert Wilder with his fist. Wilder lives at Method and is said to be a harmless, peaceable sort of negro. He was going home Sunday afternoon, September 20th, when a crowd of boys attacked him with stones, one firing at him with a pistol.

Danderine

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Alexander Hamilton.

NO man—not even George Washington—has left a more lasting impression upon our higher laws and institutions than this romantic and handsome young Revolutionary General and Statesman, who died so tragically in a duel at the very zenith of his fame.

Upon every clause of the Constitution of the United States his individuality is indelibly stamped. Daniel Webster says of him: "He smote the rock of National resources and abundant streams of revenue gushed forth; he touched the dead corpse of public credit and it sprung upon its feet."

He believed in protecting the brewing industry, and drank good beer all of his days.

ORDERED BEFORE BOARD.

The "Exile of Fort Grant" to Appear Today for Examination.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 29.—Colonel William F. Stewart, of the Coast Artillery, known as "The exile of Fort Grant", appeared under orders today before an army retiring board convened to determine whether he should be retired on account of disease. He requested a delay of two weeks time before undergoing the physical examination necessary before the board can reach a verdict, but instead of granting the request he was directed to appear tomorrow before the medical members of the board. At the same time those members were directed to extend the examination over such a period of time as may be necessary to determine whether he is disabled and, if so, whether permanently or only temporarily.

Under these instructions the two surgeons on the board will proceed deliberately with their investigations, and the full board will not meet again until they are prepared to report. Col. Stewart was present, but said nothing beyond expressing his satisfaction with the personnel of the board. He was accompanied by his brother, Attorney Charles Stewart, of San Francisco, who is his counsel. The board is composed of Brigadier General W. P. Hale, Charles A. P. Hatfield of the 13th cavalry; Colonel Edward A. Goodwin, 14th cavalry; Lieutenant Colonel William H. Arthur, surgeon; Major Guy E. Edie, surgeon, and Captain Charles R. Howland, 21st infantry, recorder.

DAVIS HEARING ENDS.

Alleged Murderer of Dr. Rustin Under $10,000 Bond.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—Following a five days' hearing before Police Judge Crawford, Charles Edward Davis this afternoon was bound over to the District Court to answer the charge of murder in the first degree for the alleged killing of Dr. Frederick Rustin on the morning of September 2. Bail was fixed at $10,000 which was furnished by two brothers of the defendant.

Arguments occupied most of the time today. Attorney Gurley for the defense forcibly criticised the characters of witnesses placed on the stand by the prosecution, and scored Mrs. Abbie Rice of whom he said: "Four times Mrs. Rice came near killing Dr. Rustin, but each time her nerve failed her. But each time she came a little nearer until the fourth time she had the gun in her hands, the physician had stepped back from her in the darkness of the barn and said 'Shoot me, shoot me, now' but her nerve failed her.

"But she does not dare tell how near she came to killing him the next time, she does not dare say there was another time. She says each of the four times Dr. Rustin told her he must be shot in the abdomen so he would not die immediately, and Dr. Rustin was shot in the abdomen, just where he told Abbie Rice she must shoot him."

—News and Observer: Good morning, Messrs. North Carolina Democrats. It is a pleasant morning. Democratic skies look very bright thank you. A good morning, it is also, in the way of the Bryan-Kern fund. It took a hurdle yesterday and went right over the $2,000 mark, with the plus sign of 50 cents on the other side. The receipts yesterday were fattened by fifty dollars from Whitakers, which did the Cause good with its cash and made it possible to get ready the second News and Observer check of $1,000 to go to the Democratic National Committee. The good work at Whitakers was done by Dr. J. P. Speight, Jr., who sends in a list of all who helped in the subscription.

—New Bern Journal: The announcement made yesterday that Hon. John Sharp Williams, Democratic leader in Congress, would speak here on Saturday, October 3 was received with great pleasure by all people without regard for party affiliation—Mr. Williams has long been recognized as one of the great men of the country—Highly educated in the great universities of this country and of Europe and specially honored by the people of Mississippi by election to public office he has become one if the most interesting men in America—He was recently selected by the Democrats of his native State for United States Senator.

Mrs. M. A. Fowler, 226 S. Front St. Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are at liberty to use my testimonial in return for the benefit I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered a great deal from dull nagging backaches, accompanied by pains in the region of my kidneys. My kidneys were quite weak and caused considerable annoyance by their irregular action: The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Robert R. COLE BROTHERS' SHOWS

World Toured Enterprise Received With Great Enthusiasm in Winston-Salem.

Newspaper reports of Cole Brothers' World Toured Shows which come to Wilmington on Monday, October 5th give the show the highest praise. The Winston-Salem Journal was much impressed with the manner in which the show employes behaved, and showered the highest encomiums upon the management for the standing of excellence the performance reached. Speaking of the show the Journal critic says:

"The circus part of the show is good, the trapeze, riding, clown stunts, trained horses and chariot racing being in every way up to the average. The wire walkers and acrobats as well as the special features, including the reproduction of several works of sculpture, through posing and clever acrobatic stunts, were among the much enjoyed features. The programme was full and no dull moment came anywhere during the performances.

"Cole Brothers claim that they are 'not at all affiliated with the trust.' The verdict of those who saw the shows' exhibitions yesterday, is that there are some very clever actors who are trust haters.

"The aggregation has good bands and many pretty horses. Their officials are courteous and the order on the ground yesterday called forth the commendation of all.

"The street parade in the forenoon was a fine display of attractions, and was witnessed by thousands of people along the streets. The 'Loop the Gap' of Madam D'Zizzi, was one of the best free attractions ever seen here and was performed at 11:30 A. M., and again at 6:30 P. M."

JOINT DEBATE AT BURGAW.

Congressman Thomas and Republican Nominee Hill There Yesterday.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Burgaw, N. C., Sept. 30—Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, Democratic nominee for Congress in this district, and his Republican opponent Mr. T. W. Hill, addressed a good crowd of Pender Democrats in the Court House here today. The attendance was chiefly of Democrats and it is safe to say that after hearing Mr. Thomas' unanswerable replies to the rather lame attack of his Republican opponent, the Democracy in old Pender was even more strongly entrenched in the hearts of the people. Mr. Hill was introduced by Capt. J. C. McMillan, of Teachey's, and Mr. Thomas by Chairman E. L. Larkins, of the Democratic County Executive Committee. Mr. Thomas' constituents were in every way delighted with the splendid manner in which he acquitted himself. The speaking took place at the Court House at 2 o'clock and Mr. Thomas and Mr. Hill left this evening for Watha, N. C., where they speak tonight.

Day of Prayer at Burgaw.

a masterly discussion of the financial system of the Republicans. His discussion of the tariff was clear and insincerity was charged on the part of Republicans in declaring for a revision. He showed very conclusively that a protective tariff did not benefit labor for the reason that the cotton farmer did not pay a cent more wages for raising cotton in Louisiana than the sugar farmer just across the way with a 60 per cent. tariff

Mr. Kitchin concluded a very fine address with an exhortation to the people of New Hanover to go to the polls on election day and vote their strength, thereby giving to the county that to which it is entitled in the conventions of the party.

At the conclusion of the address F. W. Bonitz, Esq., in a very neat little address presented Mr. Kitchin a magnificent bouquet of flowers in behalf of a number of lady admirers in Wilmington, which the speaker acknowledged very gracefully.

Mr. Kitchin arrived in the city yesterday noon from Lumberton and was met at the station by County Chairman John J. Furlong, President Cameron F. MacRae, of the Bryan and Kitchin Club; Mayor William E. Springer; Chairman D. McEachern and other prominent local Democrats. He was escorted to The Orton in an automobile and the distinguished visitor had many callers there during the afternoon. A short automobile drive was also given in Mr. Kitchin's honor during the day. He will leave this morning for Southport, speaking there tonight and returning to the city by special boat in time to leave on the early morning train tomorrow for Whiteville where a great demonstration of Columbus Democrats has been arranged in his honor.

The Theatre

Today the Crystal Palace will present an entirely new programme and one said to be even better than the fine one which closed last night. The present artists will be seen in new acts and, no doubt, will score as heavily in these as in the bill just closed. Fox & Fox will introduce a new and refined society sketch, interspersed with bright, rapid-fire jokes and up-to-date topical songs; the Dunn Sisters will be seen in new and snappy dances, and impersonations, and Charlie and Billie Boyd will present some brand new comedy "stunts." The orchestra at the Palace will also be heard in a new programme.

The present bill at the Crystal is proving one of the best yet, and, if bad weather does not interfere, will break the record for business. The attendance so far has been large, the performances at night being witnessed by "standing room only" audiences.

Victor's Royal Venetian Band.

One of the finest musical events of the season in this city will be the appearance of the celebrated Victor's Royal Venetian Band, which is scheduled at the Academy of Music on the evening of Wednesday, the 7th of October. This splendid musical organization was here several years ago, and was given an enthusiastic greeting by a tremendous audience, its programme having been one of great merit and beauty.

To those who were present on the former occasion, the news of the reappearance will be hailed with real pleasure, as it will also by scores of other musical lovers in this city.

The attraction is one of a series of four, all of exceptional merit, to be given during the next few months in behalf of the children's play ground movement, which is now one of great interest to the citizens of Wilmington.

Tickets will be on public sale at Plummer's, and the box sheet will open at a time to be announced later.

FOUR HOUSES BURNED

Fire in Southern Part of City at Early Hour Yesterday Morning.

Fire which broke out yesterday morning at 3 o'clock destroyed almost completely four houses, including the two-story building formerly occupied by Owen Smith, colored, as a restaurant, on Wright, between Second and Third streets. The fire started from unknown origin in the house at No. 211 Wright street, owned and occupied by Jennie Washington, colored, the loss on this being covered by $300 insurance with Messrs. J. H. Boatwright & Son. The flames quickly communicated to Nos. 213, 215 and 217 Wright street, the latter owned by Lizzie Howard, colored, and the others to the estate of the late Owen Smith. Messrs. J. H. Boatwright & Son also carried $1,000 insurance on the restaurant building and $450 on the dwelling of Smith. The Fire Department responded to an alarm by telephone and a delay in arriving prevented the saving of some of the property, though good work was done after the apparatus arrived.

Now Is the Time to Advertise in The Star.

DANIELS IN THE BREACH

He Takes Up Cudgels Against Republican Fostering of Trusts and Writes to Attorney General For Information.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Josephus Daniels, chairman of the Democratic press committee, today made public a letter written to Attorney General Bonaparte at the instance of the Democratic National committee, asking the Attorney General how many of the 287 so-called trusts of the country have been proceeded against in the courts by the Federal Government and how many more cases he expects to file.

Mr. Daniels' letter takes only 100 words, but appended to it is a list of 237 alleged trusts taken, he says, from a list in "Moody's Manual of Corporation Securities." He asks also for the amount of fines collected from defendant trusts and the amount of fines standing against them, but not collected.

In connection with this letter Mr. Daniels made the following statement:

"It is generally known that under Republican andministrations the oil trust had a monopoly of the old oil fields and that under the Roosevelt administration it has been able to dictate the production of oil in new territory is a matter of 'common notoriety.'

"The Standard Oil trust has not been put out of business nor reduced the price of its product. Of the 287 trusts in the United States there have been prosecutions of but few and the aggregate fines collected will not exceed $150,000. The fines in the beef trust cases may be said virtually to be a license paid to continue the violation of the law. The public has paid the fines against the meat trust 10,000 times over. If 287 trust can go on contrary to law and only be fined it may be asked of Mr. Roosevelt 'would not deeds speak louder than words?' The Democratic committee today will send a letter to Attorney General Bonaparte with a list of the 287 trusts and also ask him to mark those prosecuted and also ask him why he did not take up the steel trust which received more benefits than any other from this Government and contributed the most to the Republican campaign fund."

ASSISTANT CAMPAIGN TREASURE

Appointed by the Democratic Chairman—Permanent Headquarters.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 30.—National Chairman Mack today apointed Dr. J. W. Cox, of this city, assistant treasurer of the Democratic national committee with headquarters in New York. A. J. Doolin will continue to act in a similar capacity in the treasurer's office in Chicago. Dr. Cox who is a close friend of Mr. Bryan, will take up his duties at headquarters tomorrow and will aid Treasurer Ridder in the collection of campaign funds.

Mr. Mack said tonight that W. Bourke Cockran will take the stump for Mr. Bryan on October 12th when he will make a speech in Indiana. Mr. Cockran will speak also in New Jersey, Maryland, West Vorginia and New York. Theodore A. Bell, of California, temporary chairman of the Denver convention, will speak in Buffalo on October 23rd.

Suggestions has been made by national committeemen that after election permanent headquarters for the Democratic National committee will be established in this city with a force of clerks under the direction of the secretary. With the establishment of permanent headquarters National commiteemen say, tonight, that it will be posible for the National committee to keep in constant contact with the political situations in the various States during the off years and the committee would also be able to accummulate much desired data on the political questions that are constantly developing. It is unlikely that any official action will be taken in the matter of establishing permanent headquarters until after election.

CASTAWAYS AT SUVA

Crew From Lost Steamer Aeon Arrived Safe Yesterday.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Suva, Fiji Islands, Sept. 30.—The castaways from the British steamer Aeon, which spent nearly two months on Christmas Island, an almost barren coral formation in the Pacific ocean arrived here today on the steamer Manuka, of the Canadian-Australian Line, all well and increased by one in number. A daughter was born to the wife of Chaplain B. R. Patrick, U. S. N., 24 hours before the Manuka was sighted and this event with the arrival of the rescuers was made the occasion of much rejoicing. The Manuka reached Christmas Island on September 23. Six hundred bags of mail were transferred to the steamer during the night and the crew of the Aeon were taken aboard the next morning. The Aeon left San Francisco on July 6 for Aukland by way of Asia, and was carried on the coral island by the strong currents setting in shore. The steamer speedily broke up, but the mails were saved and a large quantity of stores. The refugees suffered from privations, but found themselves amid the remnants of former wrecks, indicating the danger of the reefs and tides.

BRYAN'S TOUR IN IOWA

Assails Taft About His Borrowed Ideas and Discusses at Length Publicity of Campaign Contributions.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Knoxville, Iowa, Sept. 30.—Speaking to a big crowd today at Oskaloosa, Mr. Bryan, after discussing publicity of campaign contributions and the election of Senator by direct vote of the people took up a recent statement by Mr. Taft regarding the amount of the Republican campaign fund. He quoted the following as coming from Mr. Taft.

"Mr. Bryan says that we may not expect anything from the Republican party because it is governed by the protected interests and that they contributed to the campaign fund. If they did do so I am glad to advise you that the campaign fund is not flattering and that no campaign has been carried on more economically than this campaign."

Mr. Bryan invited his hearers to notice the fact that Mr. Taft did not deny that they accept contributions from the protected interests. "He does not deny my indictments," said the speaker. "He simply says that if the protected interests do contribute that the fund is not flattering this year. But what does Mr. Taft call a flattering fund? He is not willing that the public shall know how much of a fund his party has or from whom it is received. Why doesn't he tell you? Is he afraid that you will not vote the Republican ticket if you know where the campaign fund comes from. If so he means that you will be sorry you voted the Republican ticket when you find out how much of a fund they have and where it comes from. Is this political honesty? What do the rank and file of the Republican party think of the Republican leaders, who conceal the amount and sources of the campaign fund and refuse to allow their campaign methods to be known."

Upon his arrival late today at Knoxville, Mr. Bryan was heartily received by a large crowd.

Taft's Borrowed Ideas.

He said: "I can say without immodesty," he declared, "that I have had a part in Mr. Taft's education. I have helped to convert him from the error of his ways, helped to lead him out into the light on several questions."

Mr. Taft, he said, "had not been an apt pupil but had been behind his classes on several of these questions.

"What idea of his own has he put into practice with sucess?" asked Mr. Bryan. "He was a judge on the bench. Was the injunction idea his? Or did he get it from somebody else? He put it into practice but he put it into practice in such a way that he has alienated the wage earners of the country. He has put colonialism into practice. Was that his idea? No, he got it from Europe and imitated in the Philippines what Great Britain did in this country before the war of independence. What idea of his own has he practically applied to government?

"Now let me show you what ideas he has borrowed. He has abandoned the idea of a permanent colonial system and advocates the ultimate independence of the Philippines. Where did he get that idea? It is not original with him. He did not get it from the Republicans for they have never put in their platforms. He got it from the Democratic platform and I have had as much to do with the presentation of the idea as anyone else. He says he is in favor of an income tax. Where did he get the idea? It is not his own. It was in the Democratic platform of 1896, if it is in our platform this year. It is not in his platform. I have spoken on the subject earlier than he has and oftener than he and more earnestly than he has. He says that he is personally inclined to favor the election of Senators by direct vote of the people. That is not an original idea with him. It is not with his party. It was the Democratic party which first secured an endorsement of that idea by the House of Representatives at Washington.

SEARCHING FOR OUTLAWS.

Governor Directed Sheriff to Search Forest—Leader Reported Killed.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30.—No arrests were made in Buckingham county today of members of the outlaw band which has been terrorizing residents, but Sheriff Williams, under instructions from Governor Swanson to begin vigorously to pursue the bandits reached Arvonia tonight and is preparing to organize a posse with which he will enter the forest in quest of the outlaws.

At Arvonia late reports state that all is quiet, the citizens feeling that secure since Governor Swanson has himself taken cognizance of the affair.

A rumor has reached here that Charlie Newton, whose wife Benjamin Zeinerman, a leader of the outlaws, is said to have outraged, has been shot and killed from ambush and although apparently well founded this cannot be confirmed. Mrs. James Thomas, mother of two of the outlaws and related to a third when seen at her home in the heart of the infected region this evening, admitted she had heard this report, Newton being also a relative. She would give no details.

ANDES' GREAT PRESCRIPTION AND OIL

At Bellamy's and Every Drug Store in the City—Most Successful Campaign in the History of Wilmington.

Andes, the great one minute advertiser who has been with us for the past two weeks, advertising The Andes Great Remedies, closed his work here last night, giving his last good free performance, which was witnessed by thousands. These splendid entertainments have drawn larger crowds night after night than anything ever seen in Wilmington. The music, songs, jokes and farces have been enjoyed to the fullest, while the fine order prevailing has been the marvel of every one. However, hundred express themselves as going soley to see and hear Andes-Payne as he has a national reputation as an advertiser and promoter, and is without a doubt the greatest man living in his line today.

The remedies are giving universal satisfaction and their sale from Bellamy's Drug Store is the largest in the history of that establishment. Andes Great Prescription, for Catarrh, Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, has made a reputation for itself with many testimonials of our best citizens who are using it, who are loud in praises of its merit. Many of these testimonials have been made public through the columns of this paper, every day. Andes Great Oil, the great assistant, for Rheumatism, Strains, Sprains, stiff joints, and drawn muscles has no equal on the market. And the cures that have been made by the use of this Oil are the talk of the whole town and surrounding country.

A Woman's Back

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear If the Advice of This Wilmington Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.

Backache is really kidney ache;

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Wilmington women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. M. A. Fowler, 226 S. Front St. Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are at liberty to use my testimonial in return for the benefit I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered a great deal from dull nagging backaches, accompanied by pains in the region of my kidneys. My kidneys were quite weak and caused considerable annoyance by their irregular action: The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store stopped the backache and strengthened my kidneys. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to several, of my friends I know them to be a valuable kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Robesonian: A force of hands began work Saturday breaking ground for the new office building which the Lumberton Cotton Mills will erect on the vacant lot near the Waverly Hotel.

—Goldsboro, Sept. 28.—In the joint discussion tonight in the Court House between Candidates for Congress Charles R. Thomas and E. W. Hill, Hill proved himself no match for Thomas in debate.

—Wake Forest, Sept, 28.—An audience composed of about 25 students, 25 boys and 15 ladies and 60 voters heard Mr. W. C. Newland, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and the Wake county candidates and legislature here tonight.

—News and Observer: At the opening of the criminal term of the Superior Court today there was a very unusual event. Roger O'Kelly, colored, a deaf mute, was admitted to practice as a lawyer. He passed examination before the Supreme Court at this term in excellent style.

—The force in the N. & S. Railroad shops at Newbern has been increased recently but is yet not as large as it was a year ago. The work for more than half of the whole system is done at Newbern and besides repairs on the cars there at any times from 15 to 20 engine about the shops, some of which have been there for more than a year and have not yet been touched.

—Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 30.—Six students of Guilford College were arrested today and are here for trial on a charge of assault and battery upon Rodny Turner, a student, son of C. L. Turner, of Catawba county. The arrests grew out of the efforts to haze young Turner one night last week. He alleges that the parties named, and about 20 others, gave him a terrible beating because, in trying to defend himself, he fired a pistol in the air.

—Industrial News: Republican State Chairman Spencer B. Adams announces the selection of T. J. Harkins, of Asheville, as secretary of the Republican State committee. At the meeting of the committee held here last Thursday the selection of a secretary to succeed Col. W. S. Pearson, who resigned, was left to Chairman Adams and National Committeeman Duncan.

—The Robesonian: George Carnice, colored, a brakeman on Seaboard freight No. 18, was killed at the station here Friday morning about three o'clock, his body being crushed between two cars. The negro was at the end of a car when his body was caught and considerably mangled between the car he was on and a car on the siding, the car on the siding being too close to the switch to admit of safe passage.

—Charlotte Observer: The last brick on the wall of the handsome skyscraper on the square has been placed and hereafter the large force of workmen will concentrate their energies on the interior. Contractor J. A. Jones still hopes to have the structure ready to turn over to the Charlotte Realty Company by January 1st, the time stipulated for its completion. If such progress is made on the interior as has been made on the exterior there will be no trouble in fulfilling the contract.

—Greensboro Record: A disposition is shown by some distillers of brandy around here to "put it to" a prohibitionist who wants a little brandy. The other day a man who has always voted for prohibition when politics was not involved asked a distiller if he could get a five-gallon keg if he would come after it. He was told he could, but he wanted to know about when he was coming. "for," said he, "I'm going to make it up especially for you and fill it full of potash so that if you live you will never more want another drink." The intended purchaser has not yet been after his liquor.

—Charlotte Chronicle: The family of the late Mr. J. P. Bailes, who died at his home near Fort Mill, S. C., a few days ago, has discovered $8,000 in gold, which he left in the bottom of an iron safe in his house, and about which he had never told any of them. A part of this amount, it is stated, had been in the safe for a score or more of years, since it is known that Mr. Bailes always saved every piece of gold which he earned. In addition to this amount he leaves on deposit in several banks between $20,000 and $25,000 in cash. Mr. Bailes' estate is valued at something like $100,000, most of which is in lands. He made a will a short time before his death and divided his holdings equally between his four children.

—Concord Tribune: Work on the two cottages at the Jackson Training School is progressing. Everything is being carried forward with direction and system. Two buildings will before much longer be ready for use, and when complete will afford a fine beginning. One of the buildings is ready for the roof and the other, not so far along, has the brick work about completed. The two buildings are exactly alike. They are neat and attractive, but in no way showy. They are attractive in their simplicity and convenience. Every bit of space is to be used. Two stories and a basement they afford room for thirty boys each. The basement is being arranged for complete occupancy, no space at all that cannot be of service. In addition at the top of each there will be a large roomy attic, used for a storage room.

CANDIDATE TAFT IN BRYAN'S STATE

He Devotes The Day to Speech Making in His Opponent's Own Territory.

AT HOME OF DEMOCRACY

Tours the State of Nebraska, Making Five Speeches in Bryan's Own Home City—Accepts Democratic Candidate's Challenge.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 30.—Accepting the challenge of William J. Bryan, right in the home city of the Nebraskan, William H. Taft tonight not only endorsed President Roosevelt's position on the question of publicity of campaign contributions, but defended it with arguments to establish that position as sound from the standpoint of public good and to show that the Bryan position was one simply for pre-election effect.

Mr. Taft made eleven speeches in Nebraska today before reaching Lincoln, and five speeches in Lincoln tonight. Excursion trains came to Lincoln from many places and the city was alive with bands and marching clubs.

The main meeting tonight was held at the Auditorium. It was here that the candidate paid his respects to Mr. Bryan regarding campaign contributions.

When the Taft special reached Lincoln at 4 o'clock the candidate was switched out to Havelock to the repair shops of the Burlington system, and there he delivered his address on labor.

He was brought back to Lincoln and escorted to the State University, where he gave a short talk.

A concert and general jubilation on the Capital grounds was the next feature and then the candidate was taken to the Auditorium where Mr. Taft made one of his characteristic talks to the women. What Mr. Taft said on publicity tonight follows:

"Mr. Bryan challenges me to take the same position that President Roosevelt takes with reference to the time, when publicity should be made of campaign contributions, and I accept the challenge. I take exactly the same position that the President takes. I have always been in favor of a law which will require publicity of both contributions and expenditures immediately after election. Mr. Bryan seems to favor the publication of contributions before the election, but postpones the publication expenditions until after that time. I confess I see no reason why, if contributions are to be published before election, expenditures should not also be published. I think that the character of expenditures is quite as important as the character or source of the contributions.

"I don't know of any election law, either in this country or abroad which requires the publication of contributions or expenditures before the election. The law of Nebraska on this subject only requires the publication of contributions and expenditures after the election. It was the laws that the Democratic managers in 1904 in Nebraska so flagrantly violated by failing to return the receipt of $15,000 from Mr. Thomas F. Ryan. The most drastic law in this country on the subject is that of New York which also makes the time of publication after election.

"The proper object of a publicity law is to prevent the use of money for bribery and other improper purposes in elections and to enable the law officers of the government and the public to determine whether the contributions made were properly expended for legitimate purposes. The requirement that the names and amounts of the persons contributing should also be shown is the purpose of enabling the public and the prosecuting officers of the government to judge whether subsequent official action has been improperly affected in favor of the contributors by the successful candidate. This can all be accomplished by publication after the election."

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT REPLY

He Has Given Up the Epistolary Contest With Bryan.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt will not reply to latest letter of William J. Bryan, given out by him last night at Rock Island, Illinois. Secretary Loeb stated today that the President felt that inasmuch as Mr. Bryan's letter was simply an attack upon him personally there was no reason why he should answer it.

Secretary Loeb today made the statement that President Roosevelt had no intention at present of making a speaking tour in behalf of the Republican candidate for the Presidency. Many invitations had been received by the President, Mr. Loeb said; but Mr. Roosevelt never has stated that he would take the stump. When asked whether, if the situation took such a turn that the President might consider that making a speaking tour would materially aid the Republican cause, the President in that event would take the stump, Mr. Loeb replied that he might or might not do so, and added that no one could tell what the future would bring forth.

Recent reports having failed to indicate the presence of yellow fever in Havana, Cuba, the public health and marine hospital service have removed the quarantine which was established against that city a few weeks ago. The quarantine against the province of Santiago still remains intact.

HASKELL CORRECTS THE PRESIDENT

Advises Him That he Should Not Have Made Charges on Hearsay Statements.

LETTER TO MR. ROOSEVELT

Gov. Haskell Willing to Come to Court Hear Over Land Question. Will Disgust People With President.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 30.—Governor Charles N. Haskell formally treasurer of the Democratic National committee tonight gave out a long letter to President Roosevelt repeating his published defense to the charges made against him. The letter in part is as follows:

"The serious character of your charge against me should have suggested to you that you as chief executive should proceed with deliberation and certainty before making such hearsay statements your own declarations.

"Your attack upon me finally on my conduct toward the Prairie Oil and Gas Company in this State. I have said that you were responsible for granting a franchise before Statehood, thereby repeating vested rights. You seek to evade the issue and create wrong impressions. You said the interior department had no power, except where crossing an indian reservation. You would have your readers believe that Indian Territory was then conducting its own Government and that only pars of the same were indian reservations.

"Mr. Roosevelt, you know it is not true; you know all the land was Indian land without county, township or territorial Government. What halo of integrity surrounded you last week, like the mist, has faded away and the interior department holds the record which convicts you.

You granted the franchise at the solicitation of Senator Depew, and a few days thereafter received $260,000 in cash for your campaign fund.

"You charged me with having attempted to bribe the Attorney General of Ohio. That was presumably nine years ago. You have abandoned that position. Charles P. Taft says through his paper that no evidence was ever produced that would convict me of the charge.

"In touching on the State university question you pretended to quote from the magazine but how dishonestly you enlarged on the magazine article. That article charged me with substituting Democratic for Republican professors for political purposes. I have shown that statement to be false, but I charge you with trying to enlarge on magazine articles and give the world the impression that we were improperly using the money appropriated to conduct that institution.

"You charge that I voted a child labor law, you have not apologized for, notwithstanding you know that I did it with the approval of union labor and that our State constitution, which you said was 'so bad your opinion of it would not look well in print' contains more detail and child labor legislation than all you have recommended to the New York legislature as Governor or to the Congress of the United States as president, and that I had approved fourteen acts of our legislature passed at the solicitation of union labor.

"You said in your first statement that I had suit brought against me to recover title to Creek Indian land. I overwhelmed you on that statement. Adopting your usual policy, you flee from that statement without just apology and adopt the statement now that it was Government town site lots that you charged me with being sued for. Yes, I believe I am a defendant as to certain Government town site lots in one of nearly eleven thousands suits that you have had brought against as many different honorable and high minded citizens of this State during this presidential campaign year, and you will not undertake to deny that petty politics for the purpose of Republicanizing about 20,000 Indian voters was your motive for having those suits brought; and I charge you with knowing that there has been no delay in these cases, except that occasioned by the courts deliberations, taken by himself as time he deems necessary to consider whether or not there is any merit in the petition by our attorney.

"You say that on that land question you will see that I get a hearing in court. You, sir, I will come to your hearing. Call to your assistance all the power that your high office commands, present cases in any form you like, I am ready to meet it and before its conclusion the people of America will be disgusted that they ever elected you President of the United States."

RICE SHOT HIMSELF.

Madison Register Died to Avoid Reports of Political Opponents.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 30.—After telling some of his friends that he would rather die than live to hear the reports which some of his political opponents were circulating about him W. Reagan Rice, Register of Deeds, of Madison county, shot himself to death at his home near Marshall today.

Rice was elected to office on the Republican ticket two year ago.

TERRIBLE FLOOD KILLS THOUSANDS

Catastrophe in India Almost Devastated Capital of Nizams' Dominions.

PEOPLE BURIED IN RUINS

Flood of Water Sixty Feet High Sweep Down Upon the City—Wiped Out District a Mile Long and Half Mile Wide.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Hyderbad, Ind., September 30.—The catastrophe that overwhelmed Hyderabad the capital of the Nizams Dominions and left in its trail thousands of dead, was one of the most sudden and most appalling of many visitations on India. In the Nizams dominions are many tanks or lakes, the largest of which communicates with the river Musi. Tremendous rains caused the lake to overflow into the river which in turn burst its banks. A flood of water 60 feet high swept down upon the city carrying everything before it and completely devasting several quarters of the city. Thousands of tons of water crashed in a dense mass against the houses, burying under the ruins the natives to a number that cannot be estimated.

When the flood subsided a vast quagmire of black mud out of which arises a poisonous stench, marked the spot where thousands of people lived. Bands of natives are now searching this pool for the bodies of their relatives and the scenes are sickening. Many of the bodies have been recovered and all of them are badly mangled. Many more are buried in the debris of masonary and twisted iron. The flood actually wiped out a district a mile long and a half a mile wide.

HEARST'S SHREWD CRITICISM

Will Even up With Roosevelt When He Ceases to be President.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Denver, Colo., Sept. 30.—Today in a thirty minute speech William Randolph Hearst criticised Senator Foraker, of Ohio, and Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, and read additional letters and affidavits upon the charges.

Two letters addressed to Senator Foraker and signed by John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil Company in which were enclosed certificates of deposit for $5,000 and $10,000 respectively each bearing date 1900 were read.

In support of his contention that Governor Haskell was a member of the Citizens Alliance, of Muskogee, Okla., Mr. Hearst read an affidavit dated September 21st, 1908, and signed Morgan Carroway of Muskogee, who declared that he was secretary of the alliance and had received money for dues from Mr. Haskell and had frequently talked of policies to be pursued by the alliance with reference to organized. A letter from John Farrel, of Muskogee, was also read saying that the signer was selected as sergeant-at-arms of the alliance through the influence of Mr. Haskell.

Commenting on President Roosevelt he said it was not true that he and the President "have altered our opinions of each other and are working now hand-in-hand," as the Democrats charged.

"I dislike Mr. Roosevelt personally and have every reason to dislike him. When I was running for Governor of New York, Mr. Roosevelt sent his present mouth-piece Tweed's defender into New York to say what was false about me and what Mr. Roosevelt knew to be false. If ever I have an opportunity to even things up with Mr. Roosevelt when he ceases to be President, I shall do so with peculiar satisfaction. But while Mr. Roosevelt is President of the United States, my attitude toward him is that of any loyal citizen of the United States."

Mr. Hearst denied that he was trying to elect Mr. Taft, a statement he credited to Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Hearst said in part:

"As the Foraker-Haskell controversy is still raging in the press and in the daily bulletins from the White House and in extra editions of the Commoner, I am going to take one final firing at the situation. After that I intend to abandon these gentlemen to their constituencies and their consciences, for its seems to me an unprofitable performance after the funeral (figuratively speaking) is all over, to pour controversial broadsides into the corpse."

BANKERS AT DENVER.

Action Against Express Companies Regard to Money Order Business.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Denver, Colo., Sept 30.—The American Bankers' Association, meeting in thirty-fourth annual convention in the Denver auditorium, today received the reports of its officers and various committees and listened to addresses by B. E. Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, and by Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University.

The report of the committee on express companies told of the efforts to prevent express companies from going further into the banking business. The chairman of the committee explained that the Inter-State Commerce Commission will hear the complaint of the bankers on October 15th at Washington.

WRIGHT THE WINNER.

Order for Fifty Aeroplanes Under Contract With Winner of Prize

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lemans, Sept. 30.—Lazare Weiller, a prominent French financier and aeroplane promoter, announced today that he had ordered the construction of fifty aeroplanes on the Wright model, as he was convinced that the Wright Brothers would be able to carry out the contract recently signed by Wilbur Wright and himself as the representative of a syndicate, which specifies the payment to Mr. Wright of $100,000 by the syndicate on the accomplishment of certain conditions, and the granting to the syndicate of the sole right to construct the Wright type of aeroplane in France and the colonies. These conditions require the American inventor to make two flights of fifty kilometres each in a moderate wind, the machine to carry two passengers on an equivelent weight and sufficient gasoline to allow a flight of 200 kilometres.

Wilbur Wright has won the club prize of $1,000 for the longest flight over an enclosed ground, the time limit of which expired at sunset tonight. His flight of one hour, 7 minutes and 11 4-5 seconds, made September 28th stands unbeaten. The conditions of the prize required that the flight should be made before sunset which debarred from consideration his other record-breaking flights.

NEW YORK STATE

Chairman Mack Regards it as the Crucial State in the Campaign.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 30.—Democratic National Chairman Mack said today that he regarded New York as a crucial State in the campaign.

"The National and State committees," he said, "are co-operating to effect a strong campaign in New York State. The National committee will furnish speakers to the State committee and speakers of National prominence will be sent on stumping tours through the State all through the coming month. While we intend to make a hard fight in this State, it must not be assumed that the National committee has shifted the battle ground from the West, for the electoral votes of the Middle States are essential to the success of either side. As goes New York, so will go Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island and I have the strongest belief that the Empire State will give a good plurality for Bryan and Kern."

SEVERAL THOUSAND IN ATTENDANCE

Col. Dillingham Spoke at Fourth and Castle Streets.

HEARERS DEEPLY IMPRESSED

Distinguished Visitor Was Arrayed in Gorgeous Raiment and Wore a Princely Collection of Costly Jewels.

Col. Frank A. Dillingham made his appearance before the people of Wilmington last night, and the occasion will long be remembered by the audience of several thousand citizens, men and women, who gathered on that spacious lot at the corner of Fourth and Castle streets to greet the famous traveler, orator and friend of humanity. The entertainment and programme was conducted by Col. Dillingham's accomplished associate, Mr. Alva A. Mills, who also addressed the audience during the course of the evening.

Col. Dillingham appeared on the scene about 8 o'clock, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Cromewell G. Byron. When the noted visitor alighted from his carriage and ascended the steps to the platform the audience was unable to repress a murmur of admiration which arose at the sight of the princely fortune in precious stones that adorned the person of this distinguished visitor. Never before in the history of this city has there been displayed at one time, either in private collections or otherwise, a set of diamonds so costly and beautiful as that worn by Col. Dillingham last night. No other visitor to this city ever displayed, or possessed, a set of jewels that could be compared with that worn by Col. Dillingham and for several minutes the audience was lost in admiration of the gorgeous spectacle presented by the man who stood before them.

Col. Dillingham addressed the audience briefly. In a clear voice, that reached to the remotest corner of the grounds, he told his hearers of his object in coming to Wilmington, and formally introduced the Plant Juice remedies, giving a short history of the origin of Plant Juice, which, he stated, had its beginning in the Divine command calling the attention of man to the fact that medicinal plants and herbs were placed on earth for the benefit of humanity; that they were intended for healing purposes. Col. Dillingham showed himself to be a complete master of the subject of medicinal botany. Candor and sincerity is characteristic of the man and his hearers were deeply impressed by his remarks.

The speaker announced that a lecture and entertainment would be given for several weeks from the platform at its present location, and that it was his intention to establish headquarters in the center of the city where he, or his associates, can be interviewed during the day.

WATSON ON BRYAN.

The Georgia Man Gives His Reasons for Opposing Bryan.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Lawrenceville, Ga., Sept. 30.—Thos. E. Watson, populist nominee for President, in his address here today ridiculed the efforts of the Bryanites to disprove by reference to the files of the Commoner, Mr. Bryan's recent deals with the liquor dealers and the negroes. Mr. Watson admitted that he had no hope of reaching the White House in the election. He said he did not want office now, but he did want to swing the State of Georgia and the "solid south" away from the grip of the Northern Democrats.

"If we break the solid South this year, in twelve years you will see a Southern man in the White House.

Briefly referring to the attack which Bryan made upon him through Senator Pettigrew Mr. Watson declared that if he had claimed to be a "good enough Rosevelt man" as Bryan did, and had stooped to beg for Republican votes on the plea that he, not Taft, is the political heir of Roosevelt, as Bryan did, there might be some plausibility in the accusation that he was allied to the Republicans.
